

The Tell es-Safi/Gath Archaeological Project

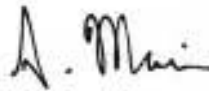

wishes you a
Happy Jewish New Year (5769)

It is an old Jewish custom to eat pomegranates on the New Year's Holiday, as a sign for rejuvenation, fertility and the coming of the new year – whose blessings should be as numerous as the seeds of a pomegranate.

Since we found such a nice pomegranate in the Tell es-Safi/Gath Excavations, I thought it would be appropriate to send you this picture—as our blessing for a happy, healthy, and peaceful Jewish New Year, a year in which you will fulfill your wishes to the utmost!

Best,

Aren Maeir
